Love and Grace

Once again, I find myself on shaky ground.
Against the flow, I keep on falling more behind.
Something's changing', my heart is racing,
I'm so out of place. As I'm about to break.

Sudden grace come flowing over me this time.
Other days my failings lead to broken rhymes.
Help me if you would.
Is there anybody out there?
But there's nobody home.

Fallen, but never down, for long.
When you fall, get ready,
for love and grace.

All these stories broken down around the world.
Look for grace and you'll find love
to right the soul.
I'll help you if I can,
I remember when you pulled me out of the dark.
Together we will stand.

In a land of love and grace,

take brokenness away, and let the healing win.
And when goodness overcomes,
there's love and grace.
Won't you let them in.

Let 'em in, love and grace, let them win.
Let 'em in, love and grace.
Get ready, for love and grace.
